TRIBUTE TO LYNN FITCH

• Mrs. HYDE-SMITH. Madam President, I rise to pay tribute to Mississippi Attorney General Lynn Fitch.

My State has much to be proud of in Attorney General Fitch as the first Republican to hold this office in almost 150 years and as Mississippi's first female attorney general ever.

Specifically today, I rise to honor her for her unwavering fight to defend Mississippi's pro-life laws. Attorney General Fitch is representing the State of Mississippi in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization at the U.S. Supreme Court this term. This case is the most anticipated abortion case to reach the Court since Casey v. Planned Parenthood in 1992, nearly 30 years ago.

In the Dobbs case, Attorney General Fitch is defending a challenge to Mississippi House bill 1510, the Gestational Age Act Enacted in 2018, this legislation bans most abortions after 15 weeks gestation. By consistently defending this law all the way up to the Supreme Court, Attorney General Fitch has set the stage for the Court to consider overturning Roe v. Wade and return the issue of abortion to the States.

The Dobbs case presents the strongest challenge to Roe in our lifetime. It is encouraging that the Supreme Court, with its first conservative majority in many years, will hear arguments on the merits of this Mississippi law. I am so proud that our female Mississippi Attorney General will be in the courtroom to defend our law in this case.

In arguing for the Court to reconsider Roe in the State's brief in the case, Attorney General Fitch said, "There are those who would like to believe that Roe v. Wade settled the issue of abortion once and for all. But all it did was establish a special-rules regime for abortion jurisprudence that has left these cases out of step with other Court decisions and neutral principles of law applied by the Court. As a result, state legislatures, and the people they represent, have lacked clarity in passing laws to protect legitimate public interests, and artificial guideposts have stunted important public debate on how we, as a society, care for the dignity of women and their children."

I wholeheartedly agree. The unlimited-abortion regime created by the Roe decision was wrong when it was handed down, and it is wrong now. It is bad for the unborn, and it is bad for women. I hope the Supreme Court recognizes that when it hears oral arguments in the Dobbs case on December 1

I am confident Attorney General Fitch will make our State proud by steadfastly defending Mississippi's law to protect unborn. Mississippians are proud to have this champion for life representing our State in this landmark case. I am praying for General Fitch and for her staff as they prepare to continue the fight to defend life before the highest court in the land.●

Stennis interns are selected based on their employment experience, college course load, and future service to Congress. This fall, 32 interns were chosen to be a part of this prestigious experience. These interns serve us on both sides of the aisle, working for Democrats and Republicans in the House and Senate, including one exceptional intern in my office who was awarded this opportunity: Natalie Gilbert of Las Vegas. TRIBUTE TO LAUREN CARSON

• Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Madam President, I rise today to honor an accomplished policymaker, a protector of environmental and public health, and my State representative: Lauren Carson. Representative Carson represents Rhode Island's 75th district and has a long history of working on issues related to sea level rise, reducing waste, and protecting the health and safety of Rhode Islanders.

Representative Carson holds a bachelor's degree from Ramapo College and two master's degrees from the University of Rhode Island. She is a businessowner and an environmental advocate who worked for several years with Clean Water Action.

Representative Carson also served her community through several organizations, including the advisory board of the Alliance for a Livable Newport, the Newport Energy and Environment Commission, the Rhode Island Green Infrastructure Coalition, and the Environmental Council of Rhode Island.

In 2014, Representative Carson successfully ran for a seat in the State legislature. At the statehouse, she has moved policy forward to protect Rhode Island's environment. Among many other accomplishments, Ms. Carson created and led a commission on the effects of rising seas. She introduced a bill that created a uniform statewide process for permitting solar panel installations. She cosponsored legislation to phase out polluting cesspools. Earlier this year, she was appointed as, deputy majority leader, a role which she used to steward the 2021 Act on Climate into law, setting statewide netzero goals for 2050 across all sectors. TRIBUTE TO DAWN EUER

• Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Madam President, I rise today to honor one of Rhode Island's most respected oceans and environmental policymakers, who happens to also be my State Senator, Dawn Euer. All of us whom have worked with Senator Euer recognize her deep commitment to Rhode Island and to safeguarding the future of the planet by fighting the climate crisis.

Senator Euer earned a law degree from Roger Williams University. While in law school, she served as a legal intern in my office, where I saw firsthand her dedication to public service and to using the law to better the lives of others.

Senator Euer began her political career as an activist and organizer. She was instrumental in the fight to make gay marriage the law of the land in Rhode Island.

Senator Euer has served on the boards of the Environmental Justice League of Rhode Island and Bike Newport. She has also advised the Newport City Council on energy efficiency, renewables, sustainable planning, and other environmental matters.

In 2017, Senator Euer successfully ran to represent parts of Newport and Jamestown in the Rhode Island State Senate. Running in a district on the front lines of climate change and sea level rise. Senator Euer advocated for substantial investments in renewable energy and resiliency. In the last legislative session, Senator Euer delivered on that promise in a big way. She succeeded in passing the Act on Climate bill, the most comprehensive climate legislation in State history. As the lead sponsor, Senator Euer developed an actionable plan to create mandatory and enforceable emissions reduction goals that chart a course to a safer future. With that legislative victory in hand, Senator Euer recently traveled to COP26 in Glasgow to help show the world that American climate leadership is back.

For my friend Senator Euer's tireless efforts in championing the 2021 Act on Climate and for all of her hard work on behalf of the people of Newport and Jamestown, I stand today to recognize her

TRIBUTE TO MEG KERR

• Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Madam President, I rise today to honor Meg Kerr, a staunch advocate for the environmental movement. Ms. Kerr retired earlier this year after a successful career of climate leadership and service to the State of Rhode Island.

After graduating from Brown University and the University of North Carolina, Ms. Kerr began the early part of her career as a scientist. She worked for the Environmental Protection Agency across North Carolina, Virginia, and Washington, D.C., where she partnered with States to standardize water quality reporting aligned with the Clean Water Act.

Ms. Kerr then moved back to Rhode Island and quickly established herself as a prominent advocate for the environment, taking on roles at the Rhode Island Rivers Council, the Narragansett Bay Estuary Program, and Clean Water Action. Ms. Kerr closed out her impressive career as the Audubon Society of Rhode Island's Senior Director of Policy.

To add to the list of her accomplishments, Ms. Kerr was a founder of the Rhode Island Green Infrastructure Coalition and helped launch the Providence Stormwater Innovation Center. She also helped found the annual Land and Water Conservation Summit that brought together hundreds of environmentalists from the State and region for over a decade. Ms. Kerr is passionate about pollinators, as demonstrated by her work organizing the Bee Rally to bring attention to the threats faced by our beloved bugs.

Ms. Kerr is a fierce and respected leader for the environment and a familiar face at the Rhode Island statehouse. Her expertise, mentorship of others, and ability to get things done for Rhode Island's environmental community has made a real mark on our State. I am proud to recognize her service and thank her for all she has done to protect our environment.
